

Activate Learning - Bracknell and Wokingham College announces event to inspire young engineers – Save the Date

Bracknell and Wokingham College will be hosting an innovative one-day event to inspire engineers of the future on Friday 26th November 2021.

Bracknell Town Mayor Sanjeev Prasad and local MP James Sunderland in collaboration with the Activate Learning, Thames Valley Berkshire Local Enterprise Partnership, Adviza and Thames Valley Chamber of Commerce will bring this high profile event to Bracknell for the benefit of students at local colleges and schools in November 2021.

"This high profile event is at the heart of inspiring and engaging young engineers of the future at a local level and is aligned to the crucial supply and demand for engineers facing the UK in areas including IT, Communications, Aeronautics, Automotive, Robotics, Cyber-Security and other key areas of engineering.

This Inspiring Young Engineers event is to act as a catalyst to bring the businesses and educational establishments closer, to shape appropriate courses gearing young people towards a career path directly related to demand for engineers. Communications to students through their respective school/college is in progress.

More information about the event will follow. In the meanwhile, do save this date in your diaries if you are interested to attend.
